

Stop trying to be the public's guardian. Since when did you decide that the american people were so ignorant that they were unable to make decisions for themselves. If someone doesn't like what is on the telivision, they have the option of changing the channel or turnig it off. You recent attacks on Howard Stern make his listeners even more loyal, and this man has about 8.5 million listeners. Remember, these people vote!